

breaklinktrue
colorlinktrue urlcolorurlcolor
linkcolorlinkcolor
citecolorcitecolor

Filter Viz Single

December 12, 2017

we chose the unk hotel after reading trip advisor reviews . we wanted somewhere that was within walking distance of the major sights . previous reviews suggested that the beds were extremely comfortable , and that unk it for us ! ! the hotel decor is unk black and white - walls , sheets , wallpaper , tiles . the impression is of a hotel that has recently been updated . we did n't use the swimming pool on the unk floor . we did n't eat in the hotel , except the free crisps in the mini - bar . we ate in different restaurants / cafes every day and were never dissapointed - all within walking distances . because of the great location we were able to walk everywhere we wanted , and did n't use public transport once . all in all we were extremely happy with our stay here , but since we left for barcelona some poor reviews have appeared on trip advisor for unk hotel . i 'm afraid that we have to agree with the surly , unfriendly complaints with regard to the person that checked us in . there was no conversation whatsoever and certainly no eye - contact . this was the only time that we came across the individual concerned , and the younger chap that worked on reception was extremely friendly and helpful . despite the hotel 's unk that this problem would be addressed , it obviously has n't . it is a shame that such a rude person is allowed to meet and greet guests , but it would n't stop me staying at the hotel in future and i would still recommend it . for anyone wishing to buy a comfortable mattress , our mattress was a king - size unk unk and i would definitely recommend it . a truly qqq * mattress ! !

we chose the unk hotel after reading trip advisor reviews . we wanted somewhere that was within walking distance of the major sights . previous reviews suggested that the beds were extremely comfortable , and that unk it for us ! ! the hotel decor is unk black and white - walls , sheets , wallpaper , tiles . the impression is of a hotel that has recently been updated . we did n't use the swimming pool on the unk floor . we did n't eat in the hotel , except the free crisps in the mini - bar . we ate in different restaurants / cafes every day and were never dissapointed - all within walking distances . because of the great location we were able to walk everywhere we wanted , and did n't use public transport once . all in all we were extremely happy with our stay here , but since we left for barcelona some poor reviews have appeared on trip advisor for unk hotel . i 'm afraid that we have to agree with the surly , unfriendly complaints with regard to the person that checked us in . there was no conversation whatsoever and certainly no eye - contact . this was the only time that we came across the individual concerned , and the younger chap that worked on reception was extremely friendly and helpful . despite the hotel 's unk that this problem would be addressed , it obviously has n't . it is a shame that such a rude person is allowed to meet and greet guests , but it would n't stop me staying at the hotel in future and i would still recommend it . for anyone wishing to buy a comfortable mattress , our mattress was a king - size unk unk and i would definitely recommend it . a truly qqq * mattress ! !

0

waited qqq minutes for chicken . employees were rude about it . once i got the chicken home i found that they had put it in the box still covered in grease to the point that the skin fell off when i pull the chicken out of the box it was disgusting . i 'll never go back and frankly do n't know if i 'll have kfc anymore . sure would like to find a good fried chicken place here in south east gilbert .

waited qqq minutes for chicken . employees were rude about it . once i got the chicken home i found that they had put it in the box still covered in grease to the point that the skin fell off when i pull the chicken out of the box it was disgusting . i 'll never go back and frankly do n't know if i 'll have kfc anymore . sure would like to find a good fried chicken place here in south east gilbert .

—1

we ordered the pork belly banh me , the kalbi beef banh me (both hot and spicy) as well as an order of sweet potato fries . all of this was ordered via unk and delivered hot within qqq minutes . the banh me was excellent ... especially the pork belly ! it 's obviously less expensive just to go to the restaurant , but we are on holiday from the states , it was late and we had a long day so the delivery service was a nice alternative . wish they had options like this back in ohio !
we ordered the pork belly banh me , the kalbi beef banh me (both hot and spicy) as well as an order of sweet potato fries . all of this was ordered via unk and delivered hot within qqq minutes . the banh me was excellent ... especially the pork belly ! it 's obviously less expensive just to go to the restaurant , but we are on holiday from the states , it was late and we had a long day so the delivery service was a nice alternative . wish they had options like this back in ohio !

—2

awesome place to go to love their unk all time favorite ! ! the service is great not see it as a business i see it like me going to a friend 's store if that makes senses lol
awesome place to go to love their unk all time favorite ! ! the service is great not see it as a business i see it like me going to a friend 's store if that makes senses lol

—3

we have just returned from our first trip to rome and what a wonderful time we had ! our stay at unk unk was everything we had hoped for and all we had read about it was true ! the room was small , but very clean and comfortable . the staff was fantastic and friendly , very helpful and the breakfast every day was wonderful ! we loved the lift up to the rooms ! the location was great and at night we left the windows open and listened to the bustle of the street below and a unk off somewhere ... we felt so ' roman " ! they gave us champagne on our last night ! the gentleman who works the night shift even gave us a personal escort to unk unk , a maze of metro stops , and delivered us right at the gate ! unk was just so nice ! i highly recommend this small hotel and would absolutely stay there again if we are lucky enough to return ! they deserve their # qqq tripadvisor rating ! thanks you , unk unk , for your part in making this trip such a pleasure !

we have just returned from our first trip to rome and what a wonderful time we had ! our stay at unk unk was everything we had hoped for and all we had read about it was true ! the room was small , but very clean and comfortable . the staff was fantastic and friendly , very helpful and the breakfast every day was wonderful ! we loved the lift up to the rooms ! the location was great and at night we left the windows open and listened to the bustle of the street below and a unk off somewhere ... we felt so ' roman " ! they gave us champagne on our last night ! the gentleman who works the night shift even gave us a personal escort to unk unk , a maze of metro stops , and delivered us right at the gate ! unk was just so nice ! i highly recommend this small hotel and would absolutely stay there again if we are lucky enough to return ! they deserve their # qqq tripadvisor rating ! thanks you , unk unk , for your part in making this trip such a pleasure !

—4

i felt compelled to write this review because some of the other reviews are so negative , specifically about their service . i met an old friend for dinner here last night at her suggestion and to be honest , i was unk it based on the reviews . the reviews about the service could n't be further apart from my experience . the place was jammed due to many holiday parties but we wanted for nothing during our time there . the timing of food arrival was perfect , we did n't wait long for plates to be cleared , our water glasses were continuously topped up , quality checks were perfect in quantity and timing . i have a high standard for service and our waitress killed it last night . the food is pretty average , kind of exactly what you would expect from this type of place . we shared bruschetta which was massive and very good although the bread could have slightly more toasted . i particularly enjoyed the addition of unk olives . we also shared the ceasar salad which could have used more garlic but was fresh and not over dressed . the mains were the worst of the meal . my friend has the seafood unk , the pasta was well cooked but the seafood was over cooked . i had the unk , which was spicy as requested but not good . all the proteins were way over cooked as was the rice and veg . i find their menu pretty limited and would n't go back for mains but would go back for apps . they had a decent wine by the glass selection .

i felt compelled to write this review because some of the other reviews are so negative , specifically about their service . i met an old friend for dinner here last night at her suggestion and to be honest , i was unk it based on the reviews . the reviews about the service could n't be further apart from my experience . the place was jammed due to many holiday parties but we wanted for nothing during our time there . the timing of food arrival was perfect , we did n't wait long for plates to be cleared , our water glasses were continuously topped up , quality checks were perfect in quantity and timing . i have a high standard for service and our waitress killed it last night . the food is pretty average , kind of exactly what you would expect from this type of place . we shared bruschetta which was massive and very good although the bread could have slightly more toasted . i particularly enjoyed the addition of unk olives . we also shared the ceasar salad which could have used more garlic but was fresh and not over dressed . the mains were the worst of the meal . my friend has the seafood unk . the pasta was well cooked but the seafood was over cooked . i had the unk , which was spicy as requested but not good . all the proteins were way over cooked as was the rice and veg . i find their menu pretty limited and would n't go back for mains but would go back for apps . they had a decent wine by the glass selection .

—5

for a sushi place off the strip . it 's pretty damn good ! plus i 've lagged on this review when they deserved it the day of .. or after . unk . they have lunch special rolls here . and i 'll say .. its unk . simply delicious ! get the salmon roll and definitely the lobster . lunch time . remember . also ... these people are korean not japanese . do n't get confused . they also have neat little names for their rolls ... the " heart attack " roll .. and " kiss me " haha . i ca n't say much other than ... eat here ! its a pretty good price . and delicious ! i feel like a fatty ...

for a sushi place off the strip . it 's pretty damn good ! plus i 've lagged on this review when they deserved it the day of .. or after . unk . they have lunch special rolls here . and i 'll say .. its unk . simply delicious ! get the salmon roll and definitely the lobster . lunch time . remember . also ... these people are korean not japanese . do n't get confused . they also have neat little names for their rolls ... the " heart attack " roll .. and " kiss me " haha . i ca n't say much other than ... eat here ! its a pretty good price . and delicious ! i feel like a fatty ...

—6

small portions . no flavour . unk pricey . so disappointed . my smoothie tasted like water with a hint of strawberry seeds . i had never had bad fries in my life until this place . small portions . no flavour . unk pricey . so disappointed . my smoothie tasted like water with a hint of strawberry seeds . i had never had bad fries in my life until this place .

—7

we organize a conference at this lovely hotel in mid - june . the entire hotel – staff from every department , from the front desk to the manager , the dining options in the hotel , the facility itself , and the venue – was wonderful to work with throughout ! over the course of qqq days we had unk meetings , unk unk , unk , and unk and all were very well received and appreciated by the qqq attendees . it was one of our more successful events , and the hotel and their excellent staff and wonderful meals played a starring role in unk us to achieve our results . many of the conference attendees specifically commented (very unk) on the hotel , its staff , the general venue , and the easy access to downtown and its many fine restaurants . the staff and management were brilliant to work with and we are hopeful that we will be able to return in the near future . thanks hilton san diego unk !

we organize a conference at this lovely hotel in mid - june . the entire hotel - staff from every department , from the front desk to the manager , the dining options in the hotel , the facility itself , and the venue - was wonderful to work with throughout ! over the course of qqq days we had unk meetings , unk unk , unk , and unk and all were very well received and appreciated by the qqq attendees . it was one of our more successful events , and the hotel and their excellent staff and wonderful meals played a starring role in unk us to achieve our results . many of the conference attendees specifically commented (very unk) on the hotel , its staff , the general venue , and the easy access to downtown and its many fine restaurants . the staff and management were brilliant to work with and we are hopeful that we will be able to return in the near future . thanks hilton san diego unk !

—8

the unk provided an excellent choice of stay as part of the unk - amsterdam mini - cruise . the hotel is unk located at the unk , with panoramic views across the city . it is a unk easy ten minute stroll to and from the central station . the welcome and friendliness of staff is unk by giving you what you need and not being seen to make a big effort . the whole experience is an unk unk from bar to restaurant to room ! the leisure facilities are simply first rate . the bedrooms are tastefully decorated and accompanied by a huge bathroom , which is more like a salon . do n't think twice - stay here !

the unk provided an excellent choice of stay as part of the unk - amsterdam mini - cruise . the hotel is unk located at the unk , with panoramic views across the city . it is a unk easy ten minute stroll to and from the central station . the welcome and friendliness of staff is unk by giving you what you need and not being seen to make a big effort . the whole experience is an unk unk from bar to restaurant to room ! the leisure facilities are simply first rate . the bedrooms are tastefully decorated and accompanied by a huge bathroom , which is more like a salon . do n't think twice - stay here !

—9

i was treated as if i were a flight risk . on check - in , credit card was run and closed out for full qqq stay . asked about local calls . staff could not tell me unk charges and recommended i buy a phone card . tried to call with phone card , but room phone was " blocked . " was asked to pay qqq pound deposit up front to unk phone . was asked to pay for breakfast in advance . " recently remodeled , " but no internet . no lifts . rooms were nicely equipped , but stuffy and unk - no fans or ventilation system . provided .. good breakfast and convenient to underground .

i was treated as if i were a flight risk . on check - in , credit card was run and closed out for full qqq stay . asked about local calls . staff could not tell me unk charges and recommended i buy a phone card . tried to call with phone card , but room phone was " blocked . " was asked to pay qqq pound deposit up front to unk phone . was asked to pay for breakfast in advance . " recently remodeled , " but no internet . no lifts . rooms were nicely equipped , but stuffy and unk - no fans or ventilation system . provided .. good breakfast and convenient to underground .

—10

i had to book a room at the last minute and this hotel suited my needs . the location ca n't be beat (a short walk to tube stop) and we enjoyed the coffee and toast in the morning . we had the first floor room behind the reception desk ; it was decent sized , and very basic with no frills . but it seemed clean enough , especially the bathroom . we had hot water , clean towels and polite staff . it is a very dated and unk hotel , but for the price it was n't as bad as i was expecting .

i had to book a room at the last minute and this hotel suited my needs . the location ca n't be beat (a short walk to tube stop) and we enjoyed the coffee and toast in the morning . we had the first floor room behind the reception desk ; it was decent sized , and very basic with no frills . but it seemed clean enough , especially the bathroom . we had hot water , clean towels and polite staff . it is a very dated and unk hotel , but for the price it was n't as bad as i was expecting .

—11

bourbon or canal so at least our room was very quiet . however , with it being an interior room (there was a small window) we think that it contributed to the room being humid and warm . three of us stayed in the room and we all left with a sore throat because of the room temp / air circulation . next thing we wanted to do when we got there was take showers , and there were no wash cloths ! the entire time we had to ask the housekeeping staff to bring us washcloths . i called the front desk to complain and they said we should have them , but every time they cleaned out room they only left us hand towels and regular towels . oh and the bathroom is tiny , so is the shower – barely enough room to move around . the restaurant in the lobby was so - so and way overpriced . you can head down one of the side streets off bourbon and get the same food for much less , guess they can charge that because of the location . also , do nt even think about ordering room service . we tried on qqq different occasions to order it and they would always say they would bring us a menu but never did . my recommendation would be to pay the extra $ qqq a nite and stay at the ritz . all of our friends were at the ritz and had a fabulous stay - and the ritz is one block over in the same location . their rooms were larger , more airy and the service there is impeccable . and watch coming in late . there is a really rude security guard that makes you show your room key to get in the building . this is totally understandable being that canal at late hours is pretty dangerous , but he did nt have to be so rude about letting us in . total jerk . and when i checked out , i found the hotel had booked two reservations under my name , including one with a no - show charge on my credit card . the manager said he would credit it back , and after making me wait qqq minutes he said he credited it back . well i checked my card today and it was not credited back yet so i had to call and deal with the people there again . we had friends stay at other hotels like hotel unk and unk house and they all had great stays ... check some of those out , plus they are closer to the french market and jackson square .

bourbon or canal so at least our room was very quiet . however , with it being an interior room (there was a small window) we think that it contributed to the room being humid and warm . three of us stayed in the room and we all left with a sore throat because of the room temp / air circulation . next thing we wanted to do when we got there was take showers , and there were no wash cloths ! the entire time we had to ask the housekeeping staff to bring us washcloths . i called the front desk to complain and they said we should have them , but every time they cleaned out room they only left us hand towels and regular towels . oh and the bathroom is tiny , so is the shower – barely enough room to move around . the restaurant in the lobby was so - so and way overpriced . you can head down one of the side streets off bourbon and get the same food for much less , guess they can charge that because of the location . also , do nt even think about ordering room service . we tried on qqq different occasions to order it and they would always say they would bring us a menu but never did . my recommendation would be to pay the extra $ qqq a nite and stay at the ritz . all of our friends were at the ritz and had a fabulous stay - and the ritz is one block over in the same location . their rooms were larger , more airy and the service there is impeccable . and watch coming in late . there is a really rude security guard that makes you show your room key to get in the building . this is totally understandable being that canal at late hours is pretty dangerous , but he did nt have to be so rude about letting us in . total jerk . and when i checked out , i found the hotel had booked two reservations under my name , including one with a no - show charge on my credit card . the manager said he would credit it back , and after making me wait qqq minutes he said he credited it back . well i checked my card today and it was not credited back yet so i had to call and deal with the people there again . we had friends stay at other hotels like hotel unk and unk house and they all had great stays ... check some of those out , plus they are closer to the french market and jackson square .

—12

coffee here is decent and i would recommend only for that . i got the unk ' chicken sandwich or whatever it was called and to my dismay the chicken was unk , ready grilled , fake ass , chicken . i realize many places do this , however , i also got a unk bar which was explained to me as being home - made . this was after she told me how she disliked packaged unk bars because of all the unk that 's put into them . so my question is why are you then serving fake - ass ready made chicken ? ? it 's not hard to make a chicken breast and you can pre - cook them and freeze them so i do n't buy the convenience argument . take some pride in your establishment and make real food . it 's hell of a lot easier to make a chicken breast than a unk bar from scratch . i may come back for coffee but i 'm leaning towards unk on unk . staff is friendly and service is quick so no unk for that . if you 're going to open up a place and serve good drinks and baked goods , do n't half ass it , especially on some chicken breasts . just to clarify how easy it is to make chicken breast , here is my recipe : || unk with unk unk in pan , does n't matter what kind in this case because anything is better than the unk chicken you 're serving . || unk chicken both sides until brown || unk in the oven at qqq to qqq for qqq to qqq mins . - you may need to actually do some work to dial in the temp and times . || unk convenience is an issue make them ahead and freeze them , again frozen real chicken is better than fake unk unk . p.s . there was bacon on that sandwich too and i think it was also pre - made horse dick but can not be certain because there was so little on the sandwich . sorry rio , you 're coffee is good (the unk bar was n't bad either) but do n't cut corners ; it 's lazy and unk your customers ' unk . that said , if rio uses real food it could easily earn qqq to qqq stars .

coffee here is decent and i would recommend only for that . i got the unk ' chicken sandwich or whatever it was called and to my dismay the chicken was unk , ready grilled , fake ass , chicken . i realize many places do this , however , i also got a unk bar which was explained to me as being home - made . this was after she told me how she disliked packaged unk bars because of all the unk that 's put into them . so my question is why are you then serving fake - ass ready made chicken ? ? it 's not hard to make a chicken breast and you can pre - cook them and freeze them so i do n't buy the convenience argument . take some pride in your establishment and make real food . it 's hell of a lot easier to make a chicken breast than a unk bar from scratch . i may come back for coffee but i 'm leaning towards unk on unk . staff is friendly and service is quick so no unk for that . if you 're going to open up a place and serve good drinks and baked goods , do n't half ass it , especially on some chicken breasts . just to clarify how easy it is to make chicken breast , here is my recipe : unk with unk || unk in pan , does n't matter what kind in this case because anything is better than the unk chicken you 're serving . || unk chicken both sides until brown || unk in the oven at qqq to qqq for qqq to qqq mins . - you may need to actually do some work to dial in the temp and times . || unk convenience is an issue make them ahead and freeze them , again frozen real chicken is better than fake unk unk . || p.s || there was bacon on that sandwich too and i think it was also pre - made horse dick but can not be certain because there was so little on the sandwich . sorry rio , you 're coffee is good (the unk bar was n't bad either) but do n't cut corners ; it 's lazy and unk your customers ' unk . that said , if rio uses real food it could easily earn qqq to qqq stars .

oh , unk . true to name , you 're like a guilty indulgence that i want more of . while visiting cleveland , i went to unk for a late dinner around qqq on a thursday . i sat at the bar , and there was quite a full crowd because they have a second , late happy hour from qqq with great deals on drinks and small plates . i ordered the house red wine ($ qqq at happy hour !) , and two suggestions of the bartender : the roasted dates to start and the steak entree with a side of brussels sprouts . the dates ($ qqq) were incredibly decadent : roasted and topped with almonds , bacon , unk and parsley , they are a party in your both of sweet and salty and spicy . the sirloin ($ qqq) , which the bartender told me is a new menu item , was beautifully cooked and topped with parmesan , truffle butter , arugula and mushrooms . it was good , although there are other things on the menu that might be more exciting . the stand out dish of the evening was the fried brussels sprouts , which i would very much like the recipe for so i can unk myself on them every night . those babies , topped with crispy crumbled bits of unk , capers and walnuts , were pure bliss . and let 's be honest , how often do you really have the opportunity to call unk sprouts unk ? probably not very often . i unk off the evening with a glass of unk scotch , neat . perfection .

oh , unk . true to name , you 're like a guilty indulgence that i want more of . while visiting cleveland , i went to unk for a late dinner around qqq on a thursday . i sat at the bar , and there was quite a full crowd because they have a second , late happy hour from qqq with great deals on drinks and small plates . i ordered the house red wine ($ qqq at happy hour !) , and two suggestions of the bartender : the roasted dates to start and the steak entree with a side of brussels sprouts . the dates ($ qqq) were incredibly decadent : roasted and topped with almonds , bacon , unk and parsley , they are a party in your both of sweet and salty and spicy . the sirloin ($ qqq) , which the bartender told me is a new menu item , was beautifully cooked and topped with parmesan , truffle butter , arugula and mushrooms . it was good , although there are other things on the menu that might be more exciting . the stand out dish of the evening was the fried brussels sprouts , which i would very much like the recipe for so i can unk myself on them every night . those babies , topped with crispy crumbled bits of unk , capers and walnuts , were pure bliss . and let 's be honest , how often do you really have the opportunity to call unk sprouts unk ? probably not very often . i unk off the evening with a glass of unk scotch , neat . perfection .

we have stayed at sheraton hotels before , but after this never again . from the moment they tried to down - grade our (pre - paid) room at check in , to the moment they tried to unk qqq dollars for " other " services , which we not only had not received but they could not even tell us what they were supposed to be , at check out , they were terrible . the staff really made you feel it was quite a lot of trouble for them to do anything to make your stay pleasant . they found it impossible to service the room properly and even make the bed , worst of all the sound - proofing is non - existant , we had little sleep due to the terrible noise each night . we will never return .

we have stayed at sheraton hotels before , but after this never again . from the moment they tried to down - grade our (pre - paid) room at check in , to the moment they tried to unk qqq dollars for " other " services , which we not only had not received but they could not even tell us what they were supposed to be , at check out , they were terrible . the staff really made you feel it was quite a lot of trouble for them to do anything to make your stay pleasant . they found it impossible to service the room properly and even make the bed , worst of all the sound - proofing is non - existant , we had little sleep due to the terrible noise each night . we will never return .

i went with three friends and we stayed in the apartment suite . our room was very clean and the hotel staff was very helpful . the only problems were the noise from the street and our room was very hot . while this is a wonderful place to stay due to location and the availability of parking garages (a bit expensive , call ahead to find local garages) , i do not know if i would recommend it to someone in their qqq . this is a perfect spot for someone in their qqq who wants a safe , clean , inexpensive stay .

i went with three friends and we stayed in the apartment suite . our room was very clean and the hotel staff was very helpful . the only problems were the noise from the street and our room was very hot . while this is a wonderful place to stay due to location and the availability of parking garages (a bit expensive , call ahead to find local garages) , i do not know if i would recommend it to someone in their qqq . this is a perfect spot for someone in their qqq who wants a safe , clean , inexpensive stay .

—16

i love the monday large pizza special . they definitely have some of the best pizza in vegas and the service is great ! i usually get a eggplant supreme and unk pizza w/ meatball & ricotta . i love the monday large pizza special . they definitely have some of the best pizza in vegas and the service is great ! i usually get a eggplant supreme and unk pizza w/ meatball & ricotta

—17

always solid ice cream and unk . went there this past weekend when visiting family nearby . like others have mentioned , the scenery is picturesque and it is a quaint little shop that 's done quality business for years . we ventured into the arena of a cookie this time too , and the kids enjoyed it . if you 're ever in this town that is straight out of unk , visit the popcorn shop , you 'll be happy .

always solid ice cream and unk . went there this past weekend when visiting family nearby . like others have mentioned , the scenery is picturesque and it is a quaint little shop that 's done quality business for years . we ventured into the arena of a cookie this time too , and the kids enjoyed it . if you 're ever in this town that is straight out of unk , visit the popcorn shop , you 'll be happy .

—18

i like unk because i feel like i am walking into a legit italian pizza joint . i love seeing unk working hard in the back and talking with all his regular guest . it makes me wanna get to know unk ! the service is always good , not great . the pizza is good , not great . the wings are great ! be prepared to wait , especially if you are a big group . great local business that i will continue to support . i will find a great pizza on their menu .

i like unk because i feel like i am walking into a legit italian pizza joint . i love seeing unk working hard in the back and talking with all his regular guest . it makes me wanna get to know unk ! the service is always good , not great . the pizza is good , not great . the wings are great ! be prepared to wait , especially if you are a big group . great local business that i will continue to support . i will find a great pizza on their menu .

—19

we gave this place a second chance and had lunch last friday . i tried the chicken tamale , which you think it would have shredded chicken . unfortunately , i only saw unk , corn and one small piece of chicken . even if there was chicken , the tamale was just okay . i liked the side grill veggies more than the tamale .

we gave this place a second chance and had lunch last friday . i tried the chicken tamale , which you think it would have shredded chicken . unfortunately , i only saw unk , corn and one small piece of chicken . even if there was chicken , the tamale was just okay . i liked the side grill veggies more than the tamale .

—20

we had no problems at all . complaints : all the destination weddings and wedding guests at the resort during our second weekend was slightly obnoxious . it would have been nicer and

quieter without them running around and partying . overall , the resort did a good job at keeping the partying and unk of these guests minimal . the resort lobby and beach front restaurants lack of air conditioning . i was miserable each evening from the heat and humidity at dinner or having drinks in the lobby after spending the day in the sun . no cash atm at the resort . you can get cash from the front desk though via cash advance on your credit card . random tips : take plenty of cash . us dollars are unk unk everywhere at a exchange rate of $ qqq pesos to $ qqq us dollar . credit cards are accepted most , but not all places (unlike in the us) so to take advantage of some things , you need cash . i used credit , debit and cash and had one of my credit card # s stolen and used for unk purchases until my bank blocked it while we were there . all banks now charge a qqq or qqq % international unk fee on each transaction . avoid ice and the drinking water in cancun , unk and tulum . its easy to do since bottled water and beer is everywhere . our one unk was ordering and drinking margaritas in unk that had ice in them . that resulted in qqq days of unk upon our return home . the water at secrets is filtered so the ice is fine . they have plenty of bottled water for you everywhere . there are unk vendors at secrets each day and night that want to sell you cigars , unk , souvenirs and photos of yourself . if you want them , go for it but the vendors are a bit obnoxious . basically , secrets brings the unk street experience to you at the resort . we did give in and buy some silly photos of us with monkeys taken on the beach one day . if you want to rent a car , book it in advance on unk and take the reservation print out with you . do n't pack valuable electronics in your checked bags going through cancun , an american airlines employee stole one of my digital cameras out of my suitcase at cancun airport on our way home . in summary , it was a great honeymoon and we really enjoyed unk maya and secrets capri resort . we ca n't wait to return one day !

we had no problems at all . complaints : all the destination weddings and wedding guests at the resort during our second weekend was slightly obnoxious . it would have been nicer and quieter without them running around and partying . overall , the resort did a good job at keeping the partying and unk of these guests minimal . the resort lobby and beach front restaurants lack of air conditioning . i was miserable each evening from the heat and humidity at dinner or having drinks in the lobby after spending the day in the sun . no cash atm at the resort , you can get cash from the front desk though via cash advance on your credit card . random tips : take plenty of cash . us dollars are unk unk everywhere at a exchange rate of $ qqq pesos to $ qqq us dollar . credit cards are accepted most , but not all places (unlike in the us) so to take advantage of some things , you need cash . i used credit , debit and cash and had one of my credit card # s stolen and used for unk purchases until my bank blocked it while we were there . all banks now charge a qqq or qqq % international unk fee on each transaction . avoid ice and the drinking water in cancun , unk and tulum . its easy to do since bottled water and beer is everywhere . our one unk was ordering and drinking margaritas in unk that had ice in them . that resulted in qqq days of unk upon our return home . the water at secrets is filtered so the ice is fine . they have plenty of bottled water for you everywhere . there are unk vendors at secrets each day and night that want to sell you cigars , unk , souvenirs and photos of yourself . if you want them , go for it but the vendors are a bit obnoxious . basically , secrets brings the unk street experience to you at the resort . we did give in and buy some silly photos of us with monkeys taken on the beach one day . if you want to rent a car , book it in advance on unk and take the reservation print out with you . do n't pack valuable electronics in your checked bags going through cancun , an american airlines employee stole one of my digital cameras out of my suitcase at cancun airport on our way home . in summary , it was a great honeymoon and we really enjoyed unk maya and secrets capri resort . we ca n't wait to return one day !

wanted . she had qqq unk raised , & was getting impatient . it was n't a regular order . i said i 'd been asked to unk qqq dozen bagels & was leaving the country in a few hrs . they did n't ask questions & no , it was n't some unk or unk thing . i 'm just glad the guy that took over said he 'd be happy to start working on my order (with a smile) , & said i could come back for it in a couple of hours . yay . my mom loves their unk bagel ; my fave is spinach unk .

the lady working here was annoyed by the fact that i was taking a while to pick the bagels i wanted . she had qqq unk raised , & was getting impatient . it was n't a regular order . i said i 'd been asked to unk qqq dozen bagels & was leaving the country in a few hrs . they did n't ask questions & no , it was n't some unk or unk thing . i 'm just glad the guy that took over said he 'd be happy to start working on my order (with a smile) , & said i could come back for it in a couple of hours . yay . my mom loves their unk bagel ; my fave is spinach unk .

—22

well worth considering on a stopover in sydney . excellent position in city . bang unk darling harbour and circular quay (either walkable in qqq mins) . plenty of eating places nearby . rail station on the door step . what more could a tourist ask for . oh yes and a bed to die for .

well worth considering on a stopover in sydney . excellent position in city . bang unk darling harbour and circular quay (either walkable in qqq mins) . plenty of eating places nearby . rail station on the door step . what more could a tourist ask for . oh yes and a bed to die for .

—23

i really enjoyed staying here . the staff was very friendly - especially the owner (i thought it was cute to see how her unk followed her around !) . whenever i needed directions or assistance they were very helpful . i did eat breakfast there because it was convenient - but it was very good too . they had excellent croissants as well as eggs , meat , cheese , yogurt , juice , cereal , etc . the rue cler area was lovely and just a short walk away . it was great to have qqq local metro stops nearby - i walked alot , but did use the metro to visit places further away . my room and bathroom were spotless and well furnished . i especially enjoyed the pc internet in the lobby ! very convenient and they put the minimal charges on my room bill . i will definitely stay there again when returning to paris . viva la france .

i really enjoyed staying here . the staff was very friendly - especially the owner (i thought it was cute to see how her unk followed her around !) . whenever i needed directions or assistance they were very helpful . i did eat breakfast there because it was convenient - but it was very good too . they had excellent croissants as well as eggs , meat , cheese , yogurt , juice , cereal , etc . the rue cler area was lovely and just a short walk away . it was great to have qqq local metro stops nearby - i walked alot , but did use the metro to visit places further away . my room and bathroom were spotless and well furnished . i especially enjoyed the pc internet in the lobby ! very convenient and they put the minimal charges on my room bill . i will definitely stay there again when returning to paris . viva la france .

—24

wow , where do i start . maybe the guy standing outside the front of the hotel unk against the wall when we arrived . there is a very popular gay night club on the corner and it get very crowded with the outside lines . saw a few unk and unk on the nights i was returning to our room . it is a few blocks from times square so it is very convenient . rooms are very small but the staff was helpful when the shower plugged up , air condition started smelling like it was burning . elevator waits were long . lobby was packed with luggage everywhere and no where to sit down in the lobby other than the four seats which were always taken . this was my qqq trip to ny and i have stayed in much nicer but costly hotels . so i guess the moral of the story really is .. you do get what you pay for especially in new york .

wow , where do i start . maybe the guy standing outside the front of the hotel unk against the wall when we arrived . there is a very popular gay night club on the corner and it get very crowded with the outside lines . saw a few unk and unk on the nights i was returning to our room . it is a few blocks from times square so it is very convenient . rooms are very small but the staff was helpful when the shower plugged up , air condition started smelling like it was burning . elevator waits were long . lobby was packed with luggage everywhere and no where to sit down in the lobby other than the four seats which were always taken . this was my qqq trip to ny and i have stayed in much nicer but costly hotels . so i guess the moral of the story really is .. you do get what you pay for especially in new york .

—25

was an inexpensive dinner choice with some decent ramen . would definitely try again . had the fried chicken ramen and fresh mochi . atmosphere was enjoyable and staff was very friend and attentive

was an inexpensive dinner choice with some decent ramen . would definitely try again . had the fried chicken ramen and fresh mochi . atmosphere was enjoyable and staff was very friend and attentive

—26

good location stayed in unk lodge for qqq nights in august qqq accomodation is o.k . if you only need it to sleep while spending time in the unk go for a balcony room , they are bigger and nicer . we first stayed in a non balcony room somewhere at the back which was very small and not nice at all . we then changed to a balcony room which is qqq $ more per night , but unk worth it . but still unk nothing special but unk brochure says that the lodge was recently refurbished which is hard to believe . at least the two rooms we have seen unk look refurbished at unk agree with other reviews that the photos on the unk do not reflect reality . the location of the lodge is very good to explore sydney . unk point is a nice area with trendy cafes and restaurants . unk about qqq minutes walking time to the city center and unk is a bus stop around the corner and kings cross train station is about qqq minutes walking time .

good location stayed in unk lodge for qqq nights in august qqq accomodation is o.k . if you only need it to sleep while spending time in the unk go for a balcony room , they are bigger and nicer . we first stayed in a non balcony room somewhere at the back which was very small and not nice at all . we then changed to a balcony room which is qqq $ more per night , but unk worth it . but still unk nothing special but unk brochure says that the lodge was recently refurbished which is hard to believe . at least the two rooms we have seen unk look refurbished at unk agree with other reviews that the photos on the unk do not reflect reality . the location of the lodge is very good to explore sydney . unk point is a nice area with trendy cafes and restaurants . unk about qqq minutes walking time to the city center and unk is a bus stop around the corner and kings cross train station is about qqq minutes walking time .

—27

i love everything about this place , i find my self there more often then i want , the deserts are amazing , so many choices , the deli is awesome , the sushi bar is great , you can not go wrong with this place , if you want a formal dining you can sit at the full service restaurant .

i love everything about this place , i find my self there more often then i want , the deserts are amazing , so many choices , the deli is awesome , the sushi bar is great , you can not go wrong with this place , if you want a formal dining you can sit at the full service restaurant .

—28

it must be the location because the hotel and staff are not what i am accustomed to from my many stays at hiltons . i will not be staying here again .

it must be the location because the hotel and staff are not what i am accustomed to from my many stays at hiltons . i will not be staying here again .

it was ok i thought it was pretty good . i had to pay $ qqq because of the timing / overbooked status , but everything was clean and neat . yeah you could here doors close , but that happens when there are qqq doors on one hallway . walls were thin , but i just turned up the tv and that drained the noise out when there was unk got a small bed the first night , booked a room with a king bed , went down the next morning to complain and they gave me a queen bed . the guy in front of me was trying to book any kind of room and they did nt give him anything . so the staff was as nice as the could be , since they were way unk was kind of small . but i did nt go to new orleans to sit in my room and complain about how much room i did nt have . you could still sleep about qqq or qqq people on the floor is you a real cheap college student like unk stay again if i can get a better qqq

it was ok i thought it was pretty good . i had to pay $ qqq because of the timing / overbooked status , but everything was clean and neat . yeah you could here doors close , but that happens when there are qqq doors on one hallway . walls were thin , but i just turned up the tv and that drained the noise out when there was unk got a small bed the first night , booked a room with a king bed , went down the next morning to complain and they gave me a queen bed . the guy in front of me was trying to book any kind of room and they did nt give him anything . so the staff was as nice as the could be , since they were way unk was kind of small . but i did nt go to new orleans to sit in my room and complain about how much room i did nt have . you could still sleep about qqq or qqq people on the floor is you a real cheap college student like unk stay again if i can get a better qqq

well first of all , when we got there for a unk conference , i was unsure about the hotel because of some of the reviews on trip advisor . i was in for a nice surprise ! the check - in lady was really nice and pleasant , and the parking ticket was n't as much as some of the reviews said it would be ! i asked the lady if we could have a bay - view room , and she gave us one without even charging extra , and we had a perfect view of seaport village and the unk ! besides that , the grand mall was only a qqq minute walk away ! the pool was clean , and the unk were outstanding ! also , the poolside snack bar had awesome bartenders , and the waitresses were very nice ! the showers were a little dirty , but hey , what can you expect from a shower that has been used before ! the beds , were a different story , as for falling asleep on them was like sleeping on a rock ! the unk in seaport village were very pricy , but for good service and food ! back to the rooms , they were very nice , and there were no " stains " on the floor . the housekeeping lady provided good service and cleaning , as the same with room service ! overall , i would definitely recommend this if you want a relaxing stay in san diego , california !

well first of all , when we got there for a unk conference , i was unsure about the hotel because of some of the reviews on trip advisor . i was in for a nice surprise ! the check - in lady was really nice and pleasant , and the parking ticket was n't as much as some of the reviews said it would be ! i asked the lady if we could have a bay - view room , and she gave us one without even charging extra , and we had a perfect view of seaport village and the unk ! besides that , the grand mall was only a qqq minute walk away ! the pool was clean , and the unk were outstanding ! also , the poolside snack bar had awesome bartenders , and the waitresses were very nice ! the showers were a little dirty , but hey , what can you expect from a shower that has been used before ! the beds , were a different story , as for falling asleep on them was like sleeping on a rock ! the unk in seaport village were very pricy , but for good service and food ! back to the rooms , they were very nice , and there were no " stains " on the floor . the housekeeping lady provided good service and cleaning , as the same with room service ! overall , i would definitely recommend this if you want a relaxing stay in san diego , california !

not feel like a prison sentence . my first look at our qqq floor room reminded me of prison . it was small , dark , with a tiny window and hard floors and tiny bathroom . i felt claustrophobic in it . the qqq room with a kind sized bed was bigger , but the views out of the window were horrible . i am going to try to unk a photo so you can see it . pros : (i tried really hard to think of good things to say) the building was unk and the walls were thick . the sink bowl was pretty . the lobby had interesting decor . that about sums up the good stuff . cons : no towel rack or counter space in the tiny bathroom . no shampoo , conditioner , lotion or kleenex . the towels were flimsy and too few (we got qqq small towels for a family of qqq) and no hand towels , no washcloths , etc . as i mentioned before , no elevator ! if you have a lot of heavy luggage and a qqq floor room , this will kill you , unk your back , give you tennis unk , put you in a bad mood , etc . the qqq floor room we were in had small windows with ugly black curtains , which makes no sense in an already dark room . i went to the window to look out and realized why the curtains were black . they were intended to block the hideous view of industrial waste . i took some photos of it . our rooms were freezing cold , and the only way to reach the temp control was to stand on top of the tv table and risk breaking your neck . the other option would have been to rent a unk . hiking down all of those stairs to bother the one guy working there did not seem like something i felt like doing . the floors were not carpeted , seemed like concrete . if you took a shower (the shower handle fell off when we tried to use it) then you would unk track water all over the concrete floor because there was nothing to unk the water . if you wear contact unk , or want to brush your teeth , or put on makeup , etc , you will not be able to do it in the bathroom because there is no counter . just a sink . i went to bed early for the sole purpose of trying to make the next day come faster so i could check out and get out of there .

not feel like a prison sentence . my first look at our qqq floor room reminded me of prison . it was small , dark , with a tiny window and hard floors and tiny bathroom . i felt claustrophobic in it . the qqq room with a kind sized bed was bigger , but the views out of the window were horrible . i am going to try to unk a photo so you can see it . pros : (i tried really hard to think of good things to say) the building was unk and the walls were thick . the sink bowl was pretty . the lobby had interesting decor . that about sums up the good stuff . cons : no towel rack or counter space in the tiny bathroom . no shampoo , conditioner , lotion or kleenex . the towels were flimsy and too few (we got qqq small towels for a family of qqq) and no hand towels , no washcloths , etc . as i mentioned before , no elevator ! if you have a lot of heavy luggage and a qqq floor room , this will kill you , unk your back , give you tennis unk , put you in a bad mood , etc . the qqq floor room we were in had small windows with ugly black curtains , which makes no sense in an already dark room . i went to the window to look out and realized why the curtains were black . they were intended to block the hideous view of industrial waste . i took some photos of it . our rooms were freezing cold , and the only way to reach the temp control was to stand on top of the tv table and risk breaking your neck . the other option would have been to rent a unk . hiking down all of those stairs to bother the one guy working there did not seem like something i felt like doing . the floors were not carpeted , seemed like concrete . if you took a shower (the shower handle fell off when we tried to use it) then you would unk track water all over the concrete floor because there was nothing to unk the water . if you wear contact unk , or want to brush your teeth , or put on makeup , etc , you will not be able to do it in the bathroom because there is no counter . just a sink . i went to bed early for the sole purpose of trying to make the next day come faster so i could check out and get out of there .

do n't shop unk everything is expired . the candy is all stale their chips are all stale . their cashiers are unk and unprofessional . taking a chance i bought strawberry unk - unk that was three months out of date . that 's a gamble that i lost ... it was rancid . how they can get away with selling products of this quality is disturbing . the only saving grace was the big unk of ice cream that i got for cheap . but now that those are gone i will not ever be , shopping in this store again

do n't shop unk everything is expired . the candy is all stale their chips are all stale . their cashiers are unk and unprofessional . taking a chance i bought strawberry unk - unk that was three months out of date . that 's a gamble that i lost ... it was rancid . how they can get away with selling products of this quality is disturbing . the only saving grace was the big unk of ice cream that i got for cheap . but now that those are gone i will not ever be , shopping in this store again

—33

booked thru travel unk unk very tiny about qqq width not a british unk door building night club . we on level qqq night club unk sleep went on till qqq am on qqq unk get a higher floor and ring hotel before about room size . new york fantastic city enjoyed every minute other than unk warned booked thru travel unk unk very tiny about qqq width not a british unk door building night club . we on level qqq night club unk sleep went on till qqq am on qqq unk get a higher floor and ring hotel before about room size . new york fantastic city enjoyed every minute other than unk warned

—34

what a dump ! qqq , ' full ') ;
what a dump ! qqq , ' full ') ;

—35

you know the tired hotel unk about being ' a home away from home ' - and they never are - well this one is ! hospitality is about the details and here you see what happens when great unk get to work on unk the best possible home a way from home experience . the lounge / breakfast / business / honor bar library floor - yes all than in one space - is brilliant . the bath room has the best showers i have seen i years - wifi unk like water as it should , even in the sauna ... (i am so tired of all the unk some hotels put us through just to get on the web) did i mention the slippers , the ipod play station , the bathrobe the list is long and every little thing is just the best . the sauna actually works it is steaming hot and there is a really cold power shower to follow - not the unk drizzle that is typical of so many hotel sauna rooms - add to that superior service but in the personal welcoming attentive way that is so rare . roll 'em out camper we need one of these in all the major european cities . (i spend qqq + nights in hotels a year)

you know the tired hotel unk about being ' a home away from home ' - and they never are - well this one is ! hospitality is about the details and here you see what happens when great unk get to work on unk the best possible home a way from home experience . the lounge / breakfast / business / honor bar library floor - yes all than in one space - is brilliant . the bath room has the best showers i have seen i years - wifi unk like water as it should , even in the sauna ... (i am so tired of all the unk some hotels put us through just to get on the web) did i mention the slippers , the ipod play station , the bathrobe the list is long and every little thing is just the best . the sauna actually works it is steaming hot and there is a really cold power shower to follow - not the unk drizzle that is typical of so many hotel sauna rooms - add to that superior service but in the personal welcoming attentive way that is so rare . roll 'em out camper we need one of these in all the major european cities . (i spend qqq + nights in hotels a year)

—36

i stayed at qqq paddington for qqq nights last july during a trip with friends . even though we booked two twin rooms we arrived there to find out that in this hotel only double rooms are available (not a good start i thought) . before checking in we were asked to pay the whole amount of money for our stay upfront which was ok but kind of strange . the hotel is actually two separate buildings with different entrance . our rooms were not in the main building so we had to go out to unk road (a quite busy avenue) and then enter the main unk everytime we wanted to visit the reception table or have breakfast . breakfast itself was disappointing but after what we had already seen we were n't surprised . rather poor , limited choices , we eventually gave it a miss and went out for breakfast . the worst aspect of this hotel though is the rooms . it was the smallest hotel room i've ever stayed in . we could barely open our baggage . bathroom was equally small and uncomfortable . there was also a small , dirty (full of dust and unk) balcony . it was unk to be out there cause if you miss your step it is likely that you 'll be diving down the road . therefore rooms are absolutely not suitable for children . now as for cleanliness , what a surprise : rooms were not clean ! stains of dirt on the sheets and towels , hair in the bathroom , unk all over the balcony . medium size plasma tv could n't make up for this . overall it looked like a cheap hotel except it was not actually that cheap . the only good aspect is the location , which was originally the reason we booked . its in paddington , unk walking distance from paddington railway and tube station , not far away from all the main attractions of central london . i'm sure though that there are other better options at the same price if you are looking to stay around paddington area , so just avoid this place , it 's not worth it .

i stayed at qqq paddington for qqq nights last july during a trip with friends . even though we booked two twin rooms we arrived there to find out that in this hotel only double rooms are available (not a good start i thought) . before checking in we were asked to pay the whole amount of money for our stay upfront which was ok but kind of strange . the hotel is actually two separate buildings with different entrance . our rooms were not in the main building so we had to go out to unk road (a quite busy avenue) and then enter the main unk everytime we wanted to visit the reception table or have breakfast . breakfast itself was disappointing but after what we had already seen we were n't surprised . rather poor , limited choices , we eventually gave it a miss and went out for breakfast . the worst aspect of this hotel though is the rooms . it was the smallest hotel room i've ever stayed in . we could barely open our baggage . bathroom was equally small and uncomfortable . there was also a small , dirty (full of dust and unk) balcony . it was unk to be out there cause if you miss your step it is likely that you 'll be diving down the road . therefore rooms are absolutely not suitable for children . now as for cleanliness , what a surprise : rooms were not clean ! stains of dirt on the sheets and towels , hair in the bathroom , unk all over the balcony . medium size plasma tv could n't make up for this . overall it looked like a cheap hotel except it was not actually that cheap . the only good aspect is the location , which was originally the reason we booked . its in paddington , unk walking distance from paddington railway and tube station , not far away from all the main attractions of central london . i'm sure though that there are other better options at the same price if you are looking to stay around paddington area , so just avoid this place , it 's not worth it .

—37—

i requested a quiet room when booking . i was given a room where you could distinctly hear people in the adjacent rooms coughing or talking , which make me wake up at unk . the room was tiny , but this would have been fine for the price i paid , if a better sound insulation had been provided . this is not what you expect from a hotel of this category . no information at all was provided about telephone and internet rates in the room . i came back one night and found the entrance shut with a sign saying " reception is temporarily closed " , and i had to wait outside for a while before being allowed to get into my room .

i requested a quiet room when booking . i was given a room where you could distinctly hear people in the adjacent rooms coughing or talking , which make me wake up at unk . the room was tiny , but this would have been fine for the price i paid , if a better sound insulation had been provided . this is not what you expect from a hotel of this category . no information at all was provided about telephone and internet rates in the room . i came back one night and found the entrance shut with a sign saying " reception is temporarily closed " , and i had to wait outside for a while before being allowed to get into my room .

—38

this is a great location in old montreal , a stones throw from notre dame cathedral . excellent restaurants abound nearby . the pool is indeed tiny , but no one really goes to montreal to swim in a hotel pool anyway . it is located behind some buildings that make it tough to see from the main streets . very clean rooms and public areas . tasty and unk breakfast . the room size was not large , but big enough . i am not sure why it 's called a suite since it looked like a normal hotel room to me .

this is a great location in old montreal , a stones throw from notre dame cathedral . excellent restaurants abound nearby . the pool is indeed tiny , but no one really goes to montreal to swim in a hotel pool anyway . it is located behind some buildings that make it tough to see from the main streets . very clean rooms and public areas . tasty and unk breakfast . the room size was not large , but big enough . i am not sure why it 's called a suite since it looked like a normal hotel room to me .

—39

i 'd booked this " boutique " hotel for a surprise romantic weekend away with my boyfriend . we arrived a day late due to issues with flights leaving heathrow the night before and with the airline , unk , but i notified the hotel to inform them of this . on arrival at the hotel the next day we were shown to a unk , dark , substandard room right at the top and back of the hotel . i complained and said that this was not what i had booked , the staff were surly and slow to respond . when they did they showed us to a very cramped double room which was still unk quality than i 'd expected on booking , but they claimed that they did n't have any others available . the following morning we ordered breakfast on room service ; it took them an hour to bring it up and when they did the food was cold and unk . we 'd already given up this hotel as a bad lot and decided that it was n't such a problem as we had all of venice to explore . i would never recommend staying at this hotel . it 's overpriced , offers appalling service , tries to palm off rooms that you 'd see in a poor indian hostel as one that it expects you to pay the going rate for a four star hotel and the overall service and attitude is dire . do n't book it .

i 'd booked this " boutique " hotel for a surprise romantic weekend away with my boyfriend . we arrived a day late due to issues with flights leaving heathrow the night before and with the airline , unk , but i notified the hotel to inform them of this . on arrival at the hotel the next day we were shown to a unk , dark , substandard room right at the top and back of the hotel . i complained and said that this was not what i had booked ; the staff were surly and slow to respond . when they did they showed us to a very cramped double room which was still unk quality than i 'd expected on booking , but they claimed that they did n't have any others available . the following morning we ordered breakfast on room service : it took them an hour to bring it up and when they did the food was cold and unk . we 'd already given up this hotel as a bad lot and decided that it was n't such a problem as we had all of venice to explore . i would never recommend staying at this hotel . it 's overpriced , offers appalling service , tries to palm off rooms that you 'd see in a poor indian hostel as one that it expects you to pay the going rate for a four star hotel and the overall service and attitude is dire . do n't book it .

—40

i am a gold member of starwood / spg hotels (of which the westin is a member) which apparently unk unk rooms within a starwood facility . in the case of the westin palace , i unk the opposite is true ; it appears they work on the principle that spg members are loyal customers who will put up with a substandard product . the room we got was spacious and well appointed

, but we immediately noticed the sheets not fully fitted . no biggie . then we noticed the stained and peeling wallpaper in the bathroom , the door of which was pretty battered (possibly water damaged) and in need of paint and repair , and the toilet seat which was up , which suggested a bit of a rushed cleaning job . again , no biggie , but for qqq per night , you expect a faultless experience . what really unk it off as an ordinary experience was the clearly stained shower robe hanging in the bathroom - it looked like something you would find in a cheap motel on a major highway - and the check - in advice that the hotel does not offer free internet , despite being sure i booked such a rate . i did n't follow it up at the time because i thought i might have made a mistake , but after checking out of the hotel i came across the original booking which clearly stated " tv internet with keyboard , movies on demand " compared with the other booking options which referred to " internet for a fee " . either i did n't get what i paid for , or the language used on the website was deliberately misleading . the location of the hotel is not bad , particularly if you wish to visit the museums , and the room was pretty quiet despite facing a busy street . but certainly would n't stay there again .

i am a gold member of starwood / spg hotels (of which the westin is a member) which apparently unk unk rooms within a starwood facility . in the case of the westin palace , i unk the opposite is true : it appears they work on the principle that spg members are loyal customers who will put up with a substandard product . the room we got was spacious and well appointed , but we immediately noticed the sheets not fully fitted . no biggie . then we noticed the stained and peeling wallpaper in the bathroom , the door of which was pretty battered (possibly water damaged) and in need of paint and repair , and the toilet seat which was up , which suggested a bit of a rushed cleaning job . again , no biggie , but for qqq per night , you expect a faultless experience . what really unk it off as an ordinary experience was the clearly stained shower robe hanging in the bathroom - it looked like something you would find in a cheap motel on a major highway - and the check - in advice that the hotel does not offer free internet , despite being sure i booked such a rate . i did n't follow it up at the time because i thought i might have made a mistake , but after checking out of the hotel i came across the original booking which clearly stated " tv internet with keyboard , movies on demand " compared with the other booking options which referred to " internet for a fee " . either i did n't get what i paid for , or the language used on the website was deliberately misleading . the location of the hotel is not bad , particularly if you wish to visit the museums , and the room was pretty quiet despite facing a busy street . but certainly would n't stay there again .

41

we had a great time in new orleans but not in our hotel . besides the location , there 's nothing good i can say about this holiday inn . the parking was very expensive ($ qqq a night) and they did not help with bags . we parked on the qqq level and had to carry our bags down to the lobby and then back to our room (i was on unk , so when i say we , i mean my husband) . not only that but we were on the qqq floor in a room at the end of the hallway which was very oddly shaped . once we got there , our keys did not work , so we had to go back to the lobby again . the a / c did not work in our room or in the hallways (it was qqq degrees the whole week) . we had to call multiple times for more towels before we actually got some . the pop machine did not work on our floor . the pool was small and very cold . the unk was wrapped with caution tape and there was no hot tub . the fitness center only had qqq pieces of equipment .

we had a great time in new orleans but not in our hotel . besides the location , there 's nothing good i can say about this holiday inn . the parking was very expensive ($ qqq a night) and they did not help with bags . we parked on the qqq level and had to carry our bags down to the lobby and then back to our room (i was on unk , so when i say we , i mean my husband) . not only that but we were on the qqq floor in a room at the end of the hallway which was very oddly shaped

. once we got there , our keys did not work , so we had to go back to the lobby again . the a / c did not work in our room or in the hallways (it was qqq degrees the whole week) . we had to call multiple times for more towels before we actually got some . the pop machine did not work on our floor . the pool was small and very cold . the unk was wrapped with caution tape and there was no hot tub . the fitness center only had qqq pieces of equipment .

42

i love them so so so much ! on qqq and on unk everything is still amazing and fresh ! it 's healthy and you can tell they pay attention to detail . they really care about their customers and what they serve them . i love their european spin to everything . it reminds me of a close family feeling . a warm feeling along with good and healthy food , is hard to come by . this place certainly has that ! do n't miss out :-)

i love them so so so much ! on qqq and on unk everything is still amazing and fresh ! it 's healthy and you can tell they pay attention to detail . they really care about their customers and what they serve them . i love their european spin to everything . it reminds me of a close family feeling . a warm feeling along with good and healthy food , is hard to come by . this place certainly has that ! do n't miss out :-)

43

great european bakery - excellent food , great prices , it 's a bit of a hidden gem !
great european bakery - excellent food , great prices , it 's a bit of a hidden gem .

44

come and check out unk in southern unk . the food is wonderful the drinks are great ! the bartender unk could n't be any sweeter ! ! she is always a joy to be around !

come and check out unk in southern unk . the food is wonderful the drinks are great ! the bartender unk could n't be any sweeter ! ! she is always a joy to be around !

45

my husband and i booked this as a getaway trip just before memorial day . i had never stayed on this part of the island and was looking forward to the " quieter " side . the hotel was amazing . the location was beautiful and the rooms are very updated . they have two pools that overlook the ocean and it was wonderful to sit by them . the qqq concierge (pool boys) were great and they even had servers to come serve you drinks and food at your lounge chair . at first i was worried we would be too far away from things we wanted to visit but it was an easy walk to duval and they had some very cute and delicious places to go very close to the hotel . the only small complaint i have is that breakfast was a bit ordinary . they have a buffet (well worth it) but for such an amazing resort , i was expecting a bit more for unk .

my husband and i booked this as a getaway trip just before memorial day . i had never stayed on this part of the island and was looking forward to the " quieter " side . the hotel was amazing . the location was beautiful and the rooms are very updated . they have two pools that overlook the ocean and it was wonderful to sit by them . the qqq concierge (pool boys) were great and they even had servers to come serve you drinks and food at your lounge chair . at first i was worried we would be too far away from things we wanted to visit but it was an easy walk to duval and they had some very cute and delicious places to go very close to the hotel . the only small complaint i have is that breakfast was a bit ordinary . they have a buffet (well worth it) but for such an amazing resort , i was expecting a bit more for unk .

46

i was in jam and needed a place for qqq nights in hong kong , i was already there and booked via expedia from an internet cafe on hong kong island . the location is not great , the hotel looks nothing like the pictures , front desk area very small , and very unorganized . was told i had a great view upon check - in on the the qqq floor . i overlooked a freeway on - ramp and the windows in the room are not unk at all . the room itself was about as small and dingy as a unk from let 's say around qqq and like so many others have said , very dirty and walls paper thin . it was so small that my boyfriend and i actually bumped into each other quite a lot . i asked to see another room immediately but was told it would cost $ qqq us more a night to upgrade , and that room was much nicer , but not worth the extra money . if you want to be close to the " unk side of unk . , this is the hotel for you . lots of shops that sell a lot of nothing , not near anything except the temple street night market that sells everything fake and cheap one could possibly want . all in all , i would have stayed on hong kong island rather than the kowloon side .

i was in jam and needed a place for qqq nights in hong kong , i was already there and booked via expedia from an internet cafe on hong kong island . the location is not great , the hotel looks nothing like the pictures . front desk area very small , and very unorganized . was told i had a great view upon check - in on the the qqq floor . i overlooked a freeway on - ramp and the windows in the room are not unk at all . the room itself was about as small and dingy as a unk from let 's say around qqq and like so many others have said , very dirty and walls paper thin . it was so small that my boyfriend and i actually bumped into each other quite a lot . i asked to see another room immediately but was told it would cost $ qqq us more a night to upgrade , and that room was much nicer , but not worth the extra money . if you want to be close to the " unk side of unk . , this is the hotel for you . lots of shops that sell a lot of nothing , not near anything except the temple street night market that sells everything fake and cheap one could possibly want . all in all , i would have stayed on hong kong island rather than the kowloon side .

—47

new orleans , la is the most unique city in the us . i have never lived in new orleans or the state of la but i have been going to no for qqq years for business and pleasure . i saw the building of the windsor court hotel about qqq years ago . i have lost count but i have stayed there more than qqq times , less than qqq times . when my wife and i arrived last monday , we had a brand new room with unk , new carpet , bathroom and unk . they are unk the upper qqq floors . before we unpacked we asked to move to another room and we were moved down qqq floors to the other end of the hotel . that room had an old tv , carpet and the bathroom had not been redone . the lobby is still the most beautiful you can imagine . the service is top notch . my only disappointment was the dinner at the grill room . i have had dinner at least qqq times in the grill room . the room is stunning but our meal was not good for the price . maybe it was an off night . the food highlight was restaurant august which is qqq feet out the back door . i have stayed in more than a dozen new orleans hotels but next time i will go back to windsor court .

new orleans , la is the most unique city in the us . i have never lived in new orleans or the state of la but i have been going to no for qqq years for business and pleasure . i saw the building of the windsor court hotel about qqq years ago . i have lost count but i have stayed there more than qqq times , less than qqq times . when my wife and i arrived last monday , we had a brand new room with unk , new carpet , bathroom and unk . they are unk the upper qqq floors . before we unpacked we asked to move to another room and we were moved down qqq floors to the other end of the hotel . that room had an old tv , carpet and the bathroom had not been redone . the lobby is still the most beautiful you can imagine . the service is top notch . my only disappointment was the dinner at the grill room . i have had dinner at least qqq times in the grill room . the room is stunning but our meal was not good for the price . maybe it was an off night . the food highlight was restaurant august which is qqq feet out the back door . i have stayed in more than a dozen new orleans hotels but next time i will go back to windsor court .

—48

donuts ... so so so sad the first time trying them and they are incredibly oily . they have a nice unk flavour but all you get is old deep fryer oil coating your mouth . maybe it was a bad day , but we got qq and the unk ones were the worst . basically qq $ wasted :(

donuts ... so so so sad the first time trying them and they are incredibly oily . they have a nice unk flavour but all you get is old deep fryer oil coating your mouth . maybe it was a bad day , but we got qq and the unk ones were the worst . basically qq $ wasted :(

49